As a company belonging to FENAC , we operate in the sector of Advanced Services to Companies based on knowledge (KIS, Knowledge Intensive Services), we analyze the needs of companies to offer them alternatives that provide them with significant savings, without loss in the quality of its services.

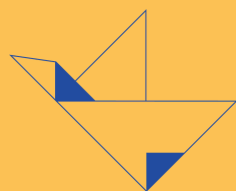

The CAC team is formed by professionals with more than 15 years of experience in the search for savings solutions in the main sources of expenditure of companies, whatever their size.

Its members are part of the Economists Association of Madrid, of boards of directors of different companies dedicated to Consulting, Management, Strategy, Organization and Marketing, as well as the Business, Institutional and Advertising Communication sector. They are professional experts in the management and organization of companies.

Through specialized work teams and industrial suppliers, a process improvement strategy is developed in business management, encouraging savings and reducing costs and expenses. All this translates into an improvement in the competitiveness of your company within your sector.
